1. A factory producing nuts and bolts of all types is located at Zatec. Its manager is Ing. Urdy, and two technical directors are Ing. Reidl and Ing. Marecek. The products are destined mainly for export, and because of poor quality large consignments have been returned.
2. Approximately 750 persons are employed in the factory; they work two shifts a day. Morale is reported to be low as a result of excessive "norms" and correspondingly small wages.
3. A new hall had been under construction at this factory and machinery had already been installed and partitions built. Recently, however, the machines were dismantled and the partitions torn down.
